DRESS CODE

GENTLEMEN

Both sexes should avoid dressing in a way that might make anyone uncomfortable or damage the individual's witness. Campers and staff will be held to the following dress code and asked to change if thought to be in violation.

When getting dressed, ask yourself: what activity am I about to do and do these clothes make sense for the context?

- Shirts should be worn at all times except for water-related activities
- Avoid shirts with the arms cut out (muscle tees that show a large amount of skin)
- Avoid tight-fitting clothing swim trunks and shorts
- No questionable language or images on any clothing

LADIES

Both sexes should avoid dressing in a way that might make anyone uncomfortable, draw unwanted attention, or make the day-to-day activities of camp life hard to perform. Campers and staff will be held to the following dress code and asked to change if thought to be in violation.

When getting dressed, ask yourself: what activity am I about to do and do these clothes make sense for the context?

- Swimsuits should cover the stomach and rear, and not show cleavage
- Shorts should be an appropriate length. Can you bend over in them or do they ride up?
- No crop tops or low cut shirts
- No questionable images or language on any clothing
